Donations Department

The Hart Seed Company has started a Donations Department to handle all of the requests for donations of seed. Our goal is to distribute seeds to deserving organizations or individuals for just the cost of shipping & handling.

If you are one of the following:

- Missionary interested in taking seed overseas
- Teacher looking for seed for a classroom project or school garden
- Cooperative extension service, community garden, or prison yard wanting to grow produce for low-income areas or food pantries

All we ask of you is to send us a brief letter to describe your project including:

- Who is receiving the seed or produce grown from it
- What you are planning on doing with the seed
- Where you are taking the seed, or where the seed or produce grown from it will be distributed
- Why this is a worthy cause for us to donate seed to
- How the people receiving the seed will benefit, not just from the immediate donation, but how it will help them improve standard of living in the future

Packets currently available for donation are our 2012 unsold seed. We want to make sure that the seed is donated to people in need; therefore, we will only donate to those who fit the above-mentioned criteria.

We would also appreciate follow-up emails with pictures of the project (before and after) so that we can not only see how the seed is being used, but to also gather beneficial ideas for other organizations similar to yours.

Seed is available in sets of 100 assorted packets with a retail value of over $189 or more! These are sorted to try and provide a good mixture of varieties, and assortments vary based on availability. If you have a request for a specific variety or varieties, please email us for availability and we will do our best to accommodate you. If you prefer to pick up the packets instead of having them shipped to you, the cost is only $5.00 per 100 packets saving $9.95 on the first set.

Please email Nicole or Melissa at Nicole@hartseed.com with any questions.
